TUESDAY EVENING, JUNE 12, 1906.

Local Matters.

Sun and Tide Table.

Sun rises tomorrow at 4:53 a. m. and sets at 7:27 p. m. High water at 12:34 a. m. and 12:58 p. m.

Weather Probabilities.

For this section fair, continued cool tonight. Wednesday fair; slightly warmer; light to fresh, northeasterly winds.

Row Among Neighbors.

Friktion which had existed for some time between the Johnsons and Carters, two colored families living on north Alfred street, culminated late yesterday evening in a serious conflict, during which Harry Carter was beaten unmercifully on the head by Henry Johnson. The belligerents were lined up evenly, there being three on each side, Carter and his mother and sister and Johnson and his wife and daughter. According to the statement of the Carter faction, Johnson was the aggressor, and he, it was said, discharged a pistol, the ball from which grazed the hand of Carter's sister. It was also averred that one of the female members of the Johnson party used a clothes prop with effect upon the head of Harry Carter, while Henry Johnson wielded a gun barrel. The Johnsons in their statement testified that Harry Carter drew a pistol and that Henry Johnson disarmed him and was compelled to use the weapon upon the head of his adversary for self-protection; also that Carter, before being relieved of the pistol, discharged it at Johnson and the ball grazed his head. Officers Lyle, Sherwood and Bell placed the combatants under arrest and conducted them to the station house in a cab. They were brought before Justice Moore in the Police Court this morning, when Mr. Eugene Taylor appeared as counsel for the Carters. Johnson was fined $25 and the others dismissed. Dr. Warfield rendered surgical assistance to Harry Carter, whose head had been seriously cut during the fight.

Fireproofing Companies to Combine.

The American Asbestos Company of New York and the Marsden fireproof materials concern of Philadelphia are to be taken over by the American Asbestos and Fireproofing Company, which has just been incorporated in Virginia, with capitalization of $16,500,000. The company will own 8,000 acres of asbestos and mica lands in Franklin and Bedford counties, Pa., a mill at Bedford, Pa., having a capacity of 100 tons of fibrous asbestos a day, and the Marsden plant in Manayunk, having a capacity at present of 200 tons of fireproof building material a day. The company also owns the Marsden patents on a process which, it is claimed, combine asbestos material and asbestos into a "plastic material that is fireproof, germ proof, vermin proof and earthquake proof." This product, it is asserted, can be manufactured out of mineral materials heretofore regarded as worthless.

Corporation Court.

[Judge L. C. Barley presiding.] In the Corporation Court yesterday evening in the suit of Mary A. Burroughs versus the Knights of Columbus the jury returned a verdict for $1,900, the face value of a policy in the defendant order, under which the plaintiff is the beneficiary, with interest from January 22, 1905, to date. Attorneys for the defendant order noted exceptions and were allowed ninety days to file a bill. Messrs. Wm. B. Riley, of Washington, and S. G. Brent, of Alexandria, represented the defendant order, and Messrs. John M. Johnson and Leo P. Harlow appeared for the plaintiff.

Today—Com. vs. James Mudd, indicted for grand larceny; prisoner pleaded guilty and was sentenced to serve sixty days in jail.

At 3:30 o'clock this evening the grand jury, which is investigating the Curtis murder case, was still out.

Episcopal High School.

Since 1903 there has been no change in the corps of instructors at the Episcopal High School, an incident without precedent in its history. This happy state of things now ends in the withdrawal, greatly to the regret of the principal, of three masters. Mr. Fontaine, as already mentioned, accepts for next session a position in the Washington D. C. School for Boys, and Messrs. Faulkner and Nelson resume their studies at the University. The former is succeeded by Mr. Francis E. Carter, of Richmond, a graduate of the school in 1902 and ever since an academic student at the University. The places of the other gentlemen are taken by Artur P. Gray, Jr., B. A., of Amherst, and G. C. Shickel, M. A., of Albemarle, both University men and teachers of experience. —[E. H. S. Chronicle.]

Lyceum's Excursion.

Those who enjoy a genuine family excursion should not fail to patronize that of the Young Men's Sodality Lyceum to River View to be given next Thursday. Practically all arrangements have been completed and the sale of tickets up to the present time is very gratifying. River View, with its numerous attractions, is one of the most ideal spots on the beautiful Potomac to spend a day's outing. For those who do not dance there is an ample sufficiency of other attractions to warrant anything but a dull time.

Fairfax Farmers.

The farmers of upper Fairfax county have organized an association, known as the Fairfax Farmers and Stockbreeders' Association, for the purpose of advancing scientific farming and stockbreeding in that county. Some of the members are: Conrad I. Shear, J. M. Middleton, L. E. Hutchison, J. P. Machen, Isaiah Bready, Dr. F. W. Huddleston, Henry Walker, Dr. W. Adams, W. E. Miller. The president is W. E. Miller.

Cool Wave.

A cool wave spread over this city and vicinity last night, and before morning the temperature had fallen to a point bordering on the chilly. The bracing air is the aftermath of the severe hail, wind and rain storms which have prevailed over a large area during the past few days.

The open-air stereopticon exhibition which was to have been given last Saturday night in front of the Opera House and which was postponed on account of the rain, will take place next Saturday night.

Personal.

Mrs. Sallie Y. McDaniel has relinquished her position as principal of Lee School and Miss Bessie King has been put in charge of Lee school for the remainder of the session.

Mr. Willis Goodrich is very sick at his home on Duke street.

Dr. George C. Becknell, of Fairfax county, has located at Pisgah and will practice medicine in Charles county, Md.

Miss Jessie Martin, of this city, and Conrad Phillip Heins, of Lynchburg, were married at the home of the bride on north St. Asaph street last evening.

The Rev. W. F. Fisher, of the First Baptist Church, performed the ceremony after which Mr. and Mrs. Heins left on a wedding tour.

Mrs. A. Morris and Mrs. J. A. Morris, of Baltimore, are visiting Mr. M. Morris in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Swan have moved to their new home on north Washington street.

At the closing exercises of Richmond Academy, a few days ago, Mr. E. J. Taylor, of this city, announced that Master Henry Taylor had won the academy scholarship. This was Master Taylor's second winning of the scholarship. Master Taylor was also awarded the principal's mathematics prize. Master Taylor is a son of Mr. Warren P. Taylor, of Richmond, and a grandson of the late W. H. Marbury, of this city, and has many friends and relatives living here.

Police Court.

[Justice W. A. Moore presiding.] The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Geo. Williams, alias Johnson, colored, arrested by Officers Jones and Bell charged with the larceny of a pistol, had his case continued.

Harry, Emily and Susan Carter, colored, arrested by Officers Lyles, Sherwood and Bell charged with disorderly conduct and fighting, had their case continued.

Henry Johnson, colored, arrested by the same officers charged with a similar offense, was fined $25. Rosa and Martha Johnson, charged with being participants, were dismissed.

Charles Jackson, arrested by Officers Garvey and Beach charged with assaulting Ida Fuller, was fined $5.

Nate McIntyre, arrested by Officer Jones charged with trespass, was fined $5.

Cobin Neal, charged with beating Allen Carter, was dismissed.

Trump Shirley, charged with abusive language toward Cobin Neal, was fined $2.50.

The Election.

The election today has been one of the quietest ever held in this city. The regular democratic nominees for the City Council had no opposition save in the Fourth ward, where Mr. Frank Evans was a candidate for the Common Council. The barrooms were supposed to be closed from sunset yesterday evening and, according to law, are not allowed to reopen until sunrise tomorrow morning. The number of votes cast in the different wards up to 4 o'clock this afternoon was as follows:

First ward..... 45
Second ward..... 65
Third ward..... 25
Fourth ward..... 62
Total..... 197

The polls were opened at 4:30 this morning and will close at 7:25 this evening.

Colored Clerk.

It is understood that Lawrence Arnold, colored, will be appointed a substitute clerk in the city postoffice. Arnold, it appears, who had passed the civil service examination, was the only man on the eligible list and his name was ordered to be sent to the department for appointment, which, however, has not yet been officially made.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The City Council meets tonight.

During the storm last Saturday evening a telephone pole fell against a house on south Royal street.

Several wires of the electric railway at the intersection of King and Royal streets fell this morning. They were soon replaced.

A marriage license was issued in Rockville, Md., yesterday to Samuel Goings, of this city, and Miss Mabel E. Tinsman, of Fairfax county.

The 17th Virginia Regiment Chapter, U. D. C., will hold their regular monthly meeting tomorrow morning, at 10:30 o'clock at Confederate Veterans Hall.

In Washington yesterday Judge Claiborne granted a divorce to Susan H. Windsor, from Richard S. Windsor, Jr., giving her the right to resume her maiden name, Susan T. Hunter, of King George county.

Fannie Loux, colored, who claimed to have been nearly 100 years old, died yesterday at her home near the Virginia end of the Aqueduct Bridge. She was a native of Virginia and was known as "Aunt Fannie."

The hail and rain storm of last Saturday evening caused considerable damage to the alms house, many window panes having been broken by the hail, while trees were uprooted and the growing crops almost ruined.

Death of Edwin B. Hay.

Col. Edwin B. Hay died in Washington at 9:20 o'clock last night after a short illness. The deceased was in the 57th year of his age. He is survived by a wife, two sons, Edwin B., Jr., and Paul F., and one daughter, Julia F. D., all of whom were with him in his last hours.

The malady resulting in the death of Col. Hay was diagnosed by the physicians as acute indigestion, which attacked him about a week ago.

The deceased went to Washington in 1850 from Norfolk, Va., where he was born in 1849, and during the civil war lived in Alexandria where he attended school. Later he was a pupil in institutions of learning in Washington, and in 1874 he graduated from the law department, and was admitted to the bar of the District of Columbia immediately after receiving his degree. He had been a practicing attorney in Washington since that time, his practice being before the government departments, Court of Claims, Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, and the Supreme Court of the United States. Besides his attainments in his profession of law, Col. Hay became interested in the art of chirography. This art led him into the comparison of handwriting, which gave him a national reputation as an expert.

Having been nearly thirty-five years engaged in this work, he was called the "Dean of the profession." In active business, outside of his profession, he was the organizer and promoter of a number of industrial companies. He had also done considerable literary and newspaper work, and was a prominent member of several social clubs. In the Masonic fraternity he was a past eminent commander of Columbia Commandery, No. 2, Knights Templar, past high priest of Mount Vernon Chapter, No. 2, R. A. M.; past master of Pentapolis Lodge, No. 15, F. A. M.; an officer in Almas Temple, Mystic Shrine, and also a Scottish Rite Mason, as well as a member of the Eastern Star. As an Odd Fellow, he was past grand of Beacon Lodge, a member of the Grand Lodge of the District of Columbia, and a member of the Encampment and Uniform Rank. He was also a member of Oriental Council of the Royal Arcanum and the Phi Kappa Psi College Fraternity. His active affiliation with the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks made him known in every city of the country, as for three administrations he served as the grand exalted ruler of the whole order, having been elected at Louisville, Ky., in 1901 by acclamation. At the time of his death he was an active member of Washington Lodge, No. 15, and of the Grand Lodge of the order. For thirty years Col. Hay was a vestryman of St. Paul's Episcopal Church. In politics he was a democrat and was one of the delegates from the District of Columbia to the St. Louis convention. He was a member of the Board of Trade and the Business Men's Association.

New Laws in Force June 14.
Attorney General Anderson has decided that unless otherwise specified in the bill, all acts passed by the recent legislative will go into effect on June 14th. Many were under the impression that the new laws would become effective June 13th, but Major Anderson's opinion in the matter will be accepted as authoritative.

In this connection, the possessors of automobiles should be reminded of the fact that the law concerning these malodorous vehicles becomes effective on the date mentioned.

The new statute, among other things, requires that every owner shall take out a certificate of registration, which is a polite way of saying that the owner must pay $2 from all such owners. The provision of the law requiring the driver of an automobile to stop his machine when approaching a frightened horse, and also to get out and assist the driver of the team to quiet his horse, is causing a good deal of criticism.

The automobile law as a whole is calculated to deter touring in Virginia, which recently has grown to a large extent.

Fight to See Bride.

Five thousand hysterical, struggling women, some of them bearing helpless babies in their arms, pressed around the doors of Grace Church in New York yesterday and fought with the police in their efforts to see Miss Cynthia Barke-Roche marry Arthur S. Burden. Not since the Duke of Burgundy wedded Miss May Goelet has the police department been obliged to handle such a mob of frantic women. Many of the women fainted. One, clinging tightly to a waiting infant, fell beneath the feet of the excited throng, and was badly trampled before she was dragged to safety. Up and down Broadway, on both sides from Seventh to Fourteenth street, for hours before the time for the wedding, the women struggled and fretted and loudly screamed at one another under the hot sun.

The Statehood Bill.

The Carter compromise on the statehood bill was agreed upon yesterday by republican leaders of the Senate and House. Nothing now stands in the way of the admission of Oklahoma and Indian Territory as a state, and a choice by Arizona and New Mexico as to whether they desire to come in as another state. It is expected that the pending conference reports will be recommended or withdrawn when it comes up today and an amended report returned to both houses embodying the compromise. In this way the discussion of a question that has been before Congress almost continuously for six years will be ended.

Alleged Confession.

A special from Winchester, Ky., reports that Curtis Jett, now in the Cynthiana jail, awaiting his second trial on a charge of assassinating James Cockrell, in Jackson, Ky., three years ago, has made a full confession, telling of the assassinations of Dr. B. N. Cox, James Cockrell and James B. Marcano. Among other things Jett is said to have confirmed the statement of B. J. Even, the star witness in the Marcano case, who, he said, told the truth in the trials from the beginning to end. Jett is also said to have declared that Thomas White, who was charged with complicity in the assassination of Marcano, admitted that the testimony of a plot to kill Marcano was true.
